Right Care Right Place

The way we get urgent care has changed. You need to know how to get the care you need.

You can phone 111 (NHS 24) if you:

- Think you need to go to Accident and Emergency, but it's not a life-threatening emergency
- Think you cannot wait for your GP surgery to open
- Have symptoms of coronavirus which are getting worse

NHS 24 will help you get the right care:

- When you need it
- Where you need it
- Without necessarily going to Accident and Emergency

You can still contact your GP surgery during opening hours.

If there is a life-threatening emergency, you should phone 999 or go directly to Accident and Emergency.

There are different ways to contact NHS 24 on 111

Language Line

If you do not speak English you can use the free interpretation service Language Line.

British Sign Language (BSL)

Relay UK

If you use a textphone you can contact NHS 24 on 18001 111. You can also contact NHS 24 with the Relay UK app.

Visit a local Minor Injury Unit (MIU) if you:

- have a cut
- have a minor burn
- have a sprain or strain
- think you have broken or fractured a bone

This is often quicker than going to Accident and Emergency.

Community health care services include:

- Opticians

Because of coronavirus the way we use these has changed.

You can:

- Speak to your pharmacy for advice on minor illnesses, treatments and medicines
- Contact your optician if you have an eye problem
- Use our self-help guides for everyday illnesses
- Contact your GP, optician or dentist by phone or online first
- Follow physical distancing measures if you go to any of these

Do not:

- Visit your GP practice, optician or dentist without an appointment
- Arrive early or late for your appointment
- Go if you, or someone you live with, have symptoms of coronavirus

If you are isolating and have another urgent health concern, contact your GP, hospital or outpatients. They will tell you what to do.
